

Shark Diving Equipment Guide

Bahamas Master

Examples of acceptable BCDs/Wings:

The following type of equipment is acceptable; however, the guest may be asked to place duct tape over the brightly coloured sections:

The following type of equipment is not suitable for shark diving activities. Guests would be required to purchase alternative equipment, or use rental gear:

Examples of acceptable fins:

Examples of acceptable fins where some taping or temporary rubber spray may be required:

The following type of fins are not suitable for shark diving activities. Guests would be required to purchase alternative equipment, or use rental gear:

Examples of acceptable wetsuits:

Examples of wetsuits NOT suitable for shark diving:

Examples of acceptable masks:

Examples of masks we would prefer people not to bring:

Examples of masks NOT suitable for shark diving:

Photography

We understand that many camera housings feature sections/panels that are colorful, bright, and/or shiny. As these are not 'attached' to your body and can readily be let go (no lanyards/body attachments are allowed), they are acceptable. We will only deny use of a camera housing if it is overly 'bright'. Examples of camera housings that would not be permitted for use during shark dives, however, are:

Please note: This is NOT a complete list of acceptable equipment, nor is it a requirement to have items on this list. It is intended as a guide to show the kinds of equipment that are suitable and that which is not suitable for shark diving. If unsure, please contact a member of the team. In all cases, crew decisions are final.